

Fall 2026 Academic Honor Policy Workshops

Keeping our campus community fair, honest, and supportive? That is something we can all get behind! Whether you are a seasoned faculty member, a brand-new instructor, a busy teaching assistant, or dedicated staff supporting our students, you are invited!

This fall, we are hosting a series of bite-sized workshops designed to demystify FSU's Academic Honor Policy. We'll break down the official procedures, share resources, and discuss how to champion integrity in the classroom. You are welcome to attend every session or just drop in for the specific topics that catch your eye or fit your schedule.

AHP 101: Policy Overview

Thurs., 9/10 | 1:00-2:00pm | Zoom

Before you can navigate the system, you have to know the map! This session is designed to give a clear layout of FSU's Academic Honor Policy. We'll cover foundational elements each instructor should know: what are the violations, what are the resolution options, what responsibilities do instructors and students have.

AHP 201: Policy Implementation

Wed., 9/23 | 1:00-2:00pm | Zoom

This session focuses on the mechanics of the policy, guiding you through completing AHP forms and letting you know what to expect if a student elects to dispute the sanctions or denies responsibility. Whether you've handled a case before or are looking for a refresher, we'll help you navigate the AHP process seamlessly.
